Rudy Lopez has over 35 years experience as a furniture and cabinet builder, but found his true passion when he discovered woodturning. His energetic easy-going personality and his ability to explain woodturning techniques in a simple, understandable manner has allowed Rudy to share his skills and enthusiasm for woodturning along with his love of wood through teaching and demonstrating at clubs and symposiums across the country, at the Arrowmont School of Arts and Crafts, and at the John C. Campbell Folk School, as well as at his turning studio in Tampa.

Rudy began working with his hands at a very young age and began to develop his creative eye through photography -- his first artistic pursuit. With his education in drafting and design, he drew inspiration from the surroundings of his youth. Rudy's natural sense of curiosity has led him to explore the techniques necessary to transform wood, from a simple rough chunk, into a piece of aesthetic beauty.

Up to five hands-on classes will be available, February 19 through 23. Each class is limited to six students; at a cost of $100 per student. The first 30 students to register will be accepted. Payment is required with your registration. Register online for a class at the AWA website: azwoodturners.org.
